Presentation School going back to neighborhood

Posted by : Reynold Joseph

Boston (WBZ Newsroom) -- Cardinal Sean O'Malley and members of the Presentation School Foundation are expected to announce on Friday that the sale of the school building to the neighborhood foundation is now complete, and that a variety educational and social services will soon take up residence.

The Boston Archdiocese originally planned to put offices in the former elementary school. It closed the building before the scheduled last day fearing parents and others would take over in vigil.

The sides entered into negotiations for the property and the archdiocese ultimately agreed to sell the building to the foundation for far less than what it had offered.
